Concordia Life

Concordia Life opens the doors to the future: our future in God's service. Jesus said, "I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life;" we at Concordia think that our open doors show "the Way, the Truth, and the Life," through teacher training. No ordinary teacher training, but Christian training so that we will feed His lambs.

Through the next few pages we will take you through the Concordia doors to the future.

Spiritual Life makes our work more effective, mean more to us, and brings us closer to our God, keeping us ever mindful of our purpose on the earth and our choice to enter God's full time service; service which God permits us to do, not that we are worthy of even serving Him. Our spiritual life goes along with us through the other doors to the future.

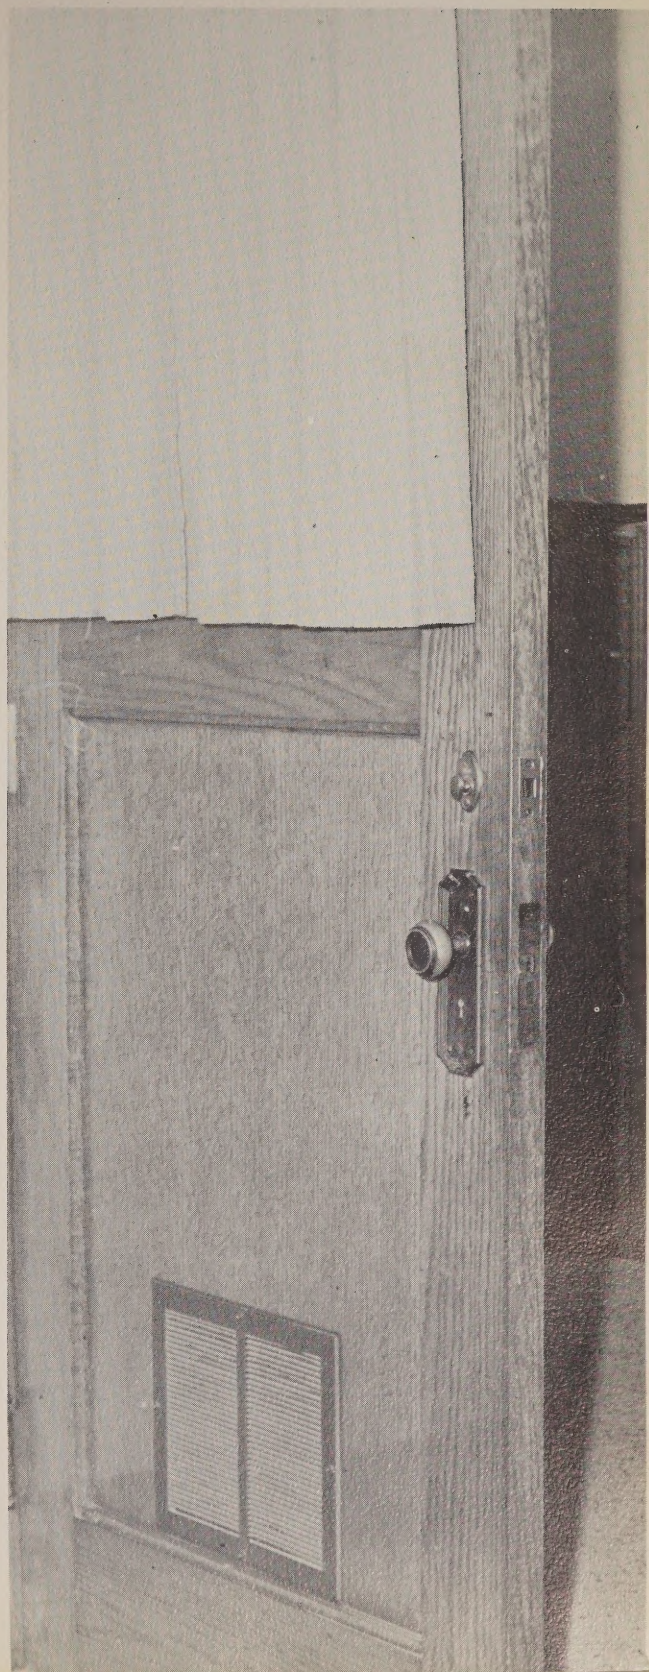

Academic Life is a stepping stone to our ultimate goal in God's service. The importance of this open door lies in the fact that to be effective teachers we must know material and methods. Without academic life the door for the educators' education would be closed.

Sports Life, our next open door, gives us a chance to enjoy Christian fellowship; a vital part of every Christian's life. God wants us to have a well-rounded life, which includes physical recreation. Here our spiritual life walks hand in hand with sports life by emphasizing Christian sportsmanship and attitude. We at Concordia, just like everyone else, like to be the winning team, but we also like to win "fair and square." By doing this we are always the winner, no matter what the score, and open the door to real sports life.

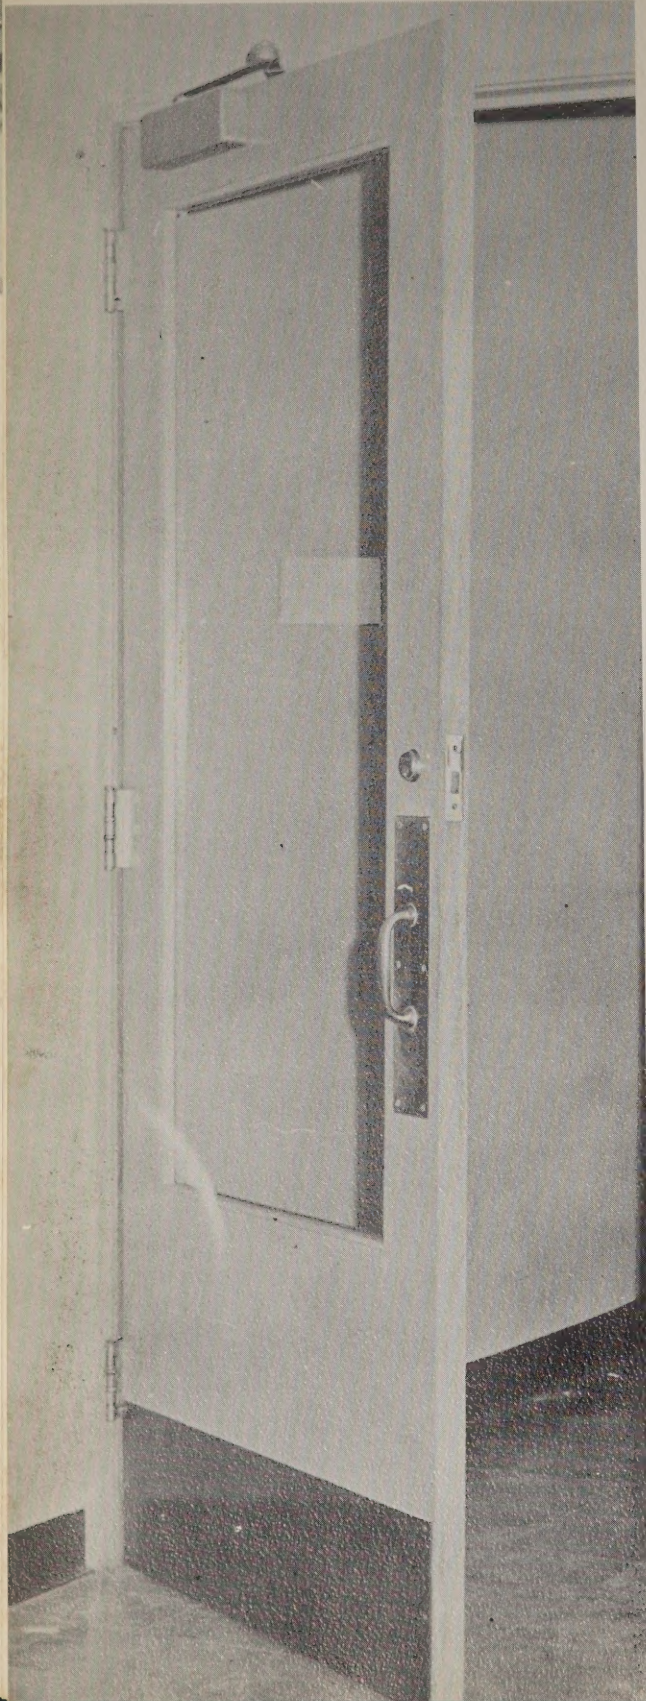

Social Life also gives us an opportunity to show Christian fellowship. This life also entails some work, but it leads the way to Christian fun and frolics, and may even lead the way to the discovery of a future mate. Who knows what God has in store for us when we take advantage of the open door of social life?

The saying "there's a time and place for everything" is a famous one, stressing the need for emphasizing more than one phase of life, and suggesting a well-balanced life, which Concordia offers.

After following the way through the doors of Spiritual, Academic, Sports, and Social Lives, we come to the ultimate door of the future. We are full-fledged teachers now, about to enter the door which is open the widest--the door to our future as teachers.

ADMINISTRATION

PRESIDENT W. THEOPHIL JANZOW

Education has goals. An institution that educates tries to accomplish something for its students. People who are being educated are trying to be something or become something. One of the legitimate aims of education is service. In our kind of institution the students' sights are trained on Christian service.

Once graduated, the student stands before the open doors of the world. These doors stand for opportunities. The opportunities for service are unlimited. There are almost infinite number of places to go. The number of people who require service is expanding at unprecedented rates.

Each person who completes Concordia's curricular offering stands ready to enter one of the world's open doors. Before his life is over--Providence guiding--he will have entered many doors and accepted the challenges of a variety of opportunities. May the keynote always be service and ministry. May the activity beyond every open door be characterized by having, living, and sharing Christ.

There are always behind-the-scenes workers and groups who receive little commendation for their successful efforts. The Registrar, Business Manager, Board of Control, and St. John's Faculty all work together for a common ultimate goal, i.e. preparing future Lutheran teachers for full time work in Christ's Kingdom.

Effective administration is a necessary requisite for the continued operation of Concordia if it is to maintain its high standards and excellent certification. The Board of Control offers academic, financial, and religious aid to the school, while the staff of St. John's contributes to professional growth through the laboratory school.

Dean's Doors Always Open For

MARTIN B. KIRCH, B.S., M.S., Ed.D.
Associate Professor of Education
Dean of Students

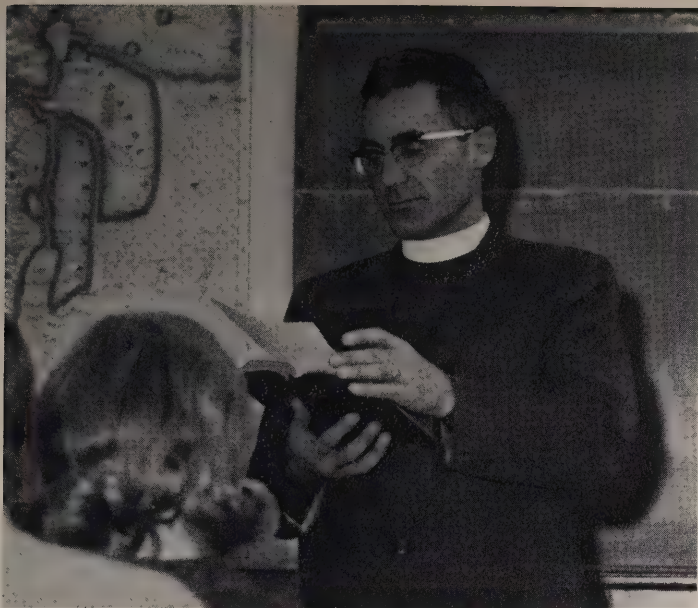

What is a dean--one who issues late pers, publishes grades, counsels the engaged, signs requisitions, speaks in chapel, grants excused absences? These are the impressions most students receive, and these impressions are correct, but they fall short of encompassing a full understanding and appreciation of the exacting role of a dean on a college campus. A sincere interest in and understanding of the students and campus situations; an organized plan; a pleasant smile; a vast knowledge of people, events, psychological implications and their practical applications; strength of convictions; an "uncommon" measure of common sense; and a firm dedication to the Savior and His work are all necessary components of the nature of a dean and all those factors lead Concordia students to respect and appreciate those who fill this office on our campus.

Professor Walter Mueller substituted as Academic Dean this year while Dr. Thomas Langevin was on sabbatical leave, and Rev. Erwin Kolb took the position of Dean of Men while Miss Stanton joined the faculty as Assistant Dean of Women.

ROBERT D. BARNES, B.S.
Instructor in Science

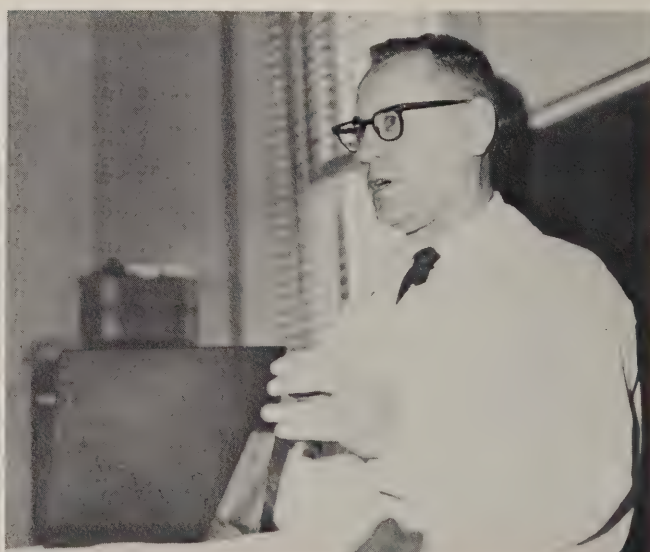

New courses in biological and physical science were offered this year to add to the already large and varied offerings in the Science department. Courses in biology, physics, and the earth sciences contribute to a complete program in the science field. The advanced chemistry lab was utilized to a large extent in this 1963-64 year. This laboratory gave greater opportunity for individual research in upper level courses.

Faculty members have been spending a major portion of their time planning the science building which will be occupied and used in the fall. Integrated into the building will be 18 faculty offices, 4 lecture classrooms, including a 120 seat tiered lecture complex. Seven laboratories together with a faculty-student research laboratory create intellectual means of studying. Conference rooms plus many other facilities are combined with the total plan to make this a tremendous avenue of improvement. The varied and revised program will indeed contribute in making an outstanding science area.

TABEA RYLL, B.S., M.A.
Instructor in Physical Education

Understanding, appreciation, and skills are developed in the area of physical education. With the addition of two instructors, T. Ryll and J. Seevers, the physical education department has expanded and offers courses in Basic and Advanced Physical Education and Activities, Swimming and Diving, Health and Emergency Care together with methods of organization and administration.

Kinesiology, a study of the human structure and arrangement with special emphasis on muscle shape, its origin and insertion on the bony structure of the exact application of muscular power, has been added for students in upper level standing. Life Saving and Water Safety was integrated into the program as an accredited course for the first time this year.

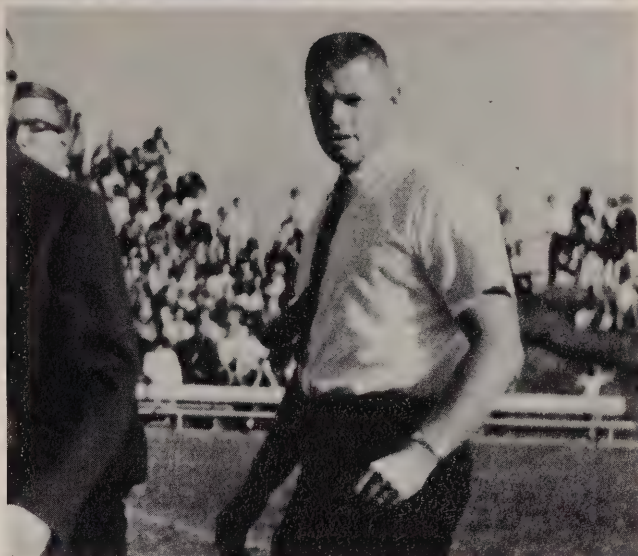

Considerable work has been spent by the faculty in developing proposals with regard to the elementary and secondary education program. Continued planning will lead to an even larger and more complete program in the future.

Students Acquire Spiritual Insights For Classroom Witness

As maturing minds and bodies demand nourishment, so does maturing faith demand "meat" in the study of God's Word (Hebrews 5:13). To help students grow spiritually, dedicated men in the religion department guide study of the Scriptures and of various aspects of the Christian experience.

A new course--Christian Witness--taught by Rev. Erwin Kolb, who joined the Concordia faculty this year as Dean of Chapel, Dean of Men and Assistant Professor of Religion, was initiated into the religion program.

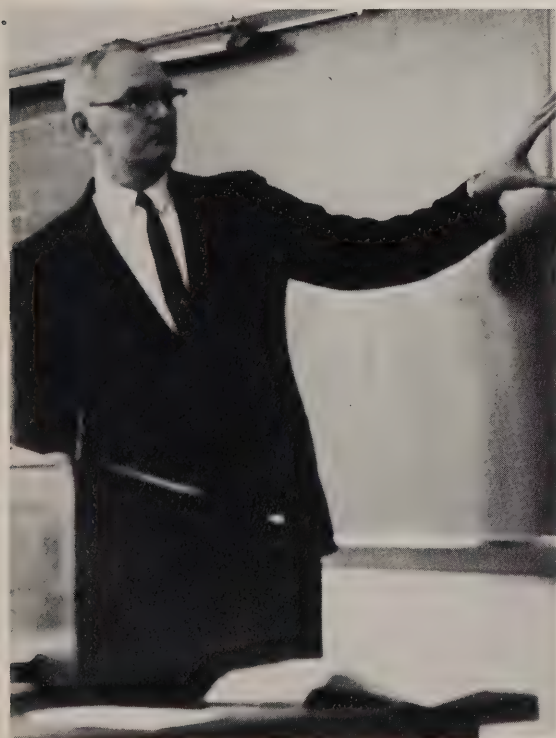

The religion department sponsored an area seminar on the history of American Lutheranism led by the Rev. August Suelflow, Director of Concordia Historical Institute, and during the summer, a workshop on "The Word of God" led by Professor Herbert Bouman of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis.

Professors Laetsch, Rosin and Hackmann are serving as pastoral conference essayists, and Professors Uhlig and Rosin received A.A.L. Faculty-Fellowships for the purpose of completing work toward degrees from Concordia Seminary in St. Louis.

Through religious instruction students gain knowledge, strengthen their faith, build foundations for future study, increase personal Bible study skills, and develop attitudes and practice in Christian living and witnessing.

Expanding And Unified English Department

With the addition of three instructors, Professors Korinko, Parrish, and Roundey, the English Department has expanded offerings in English Literature, Linguistics, Modern Literature and Drama.

Future teachers learn to teach with more authority and purpose in the course of Linguistics by learning how grammar, pronunciation, vocabulary and spelling came to be what they are.

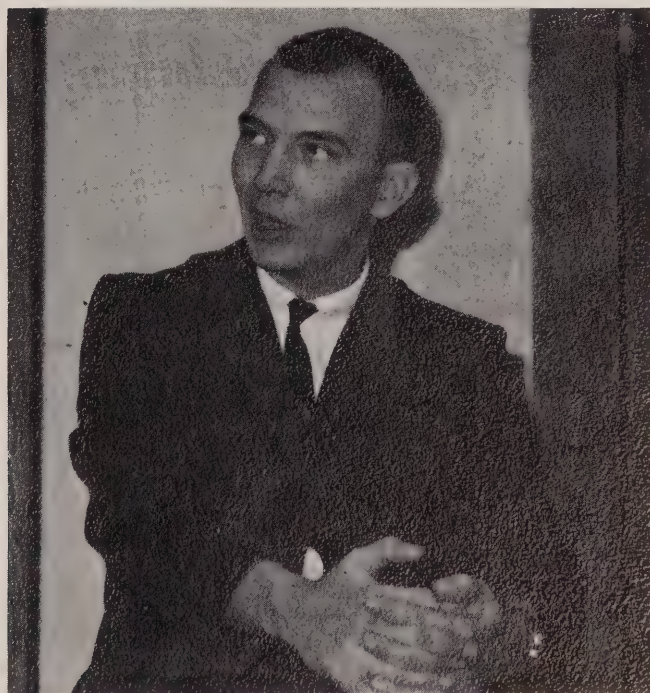

The basic courses in composition, speech and literature have been unified. In them the student progresses from the general skills in writing and speaking to more advanced writing about the ideas of great literature.

In the freshman English course a programmed text was used to help the student defeat the "monsters" of grammar and mechanics.

Members of the staff are engaged in planning the art, speech, and drama wing of the new fine arts building which will be built in several years. A minor in German is forming and a language laboratory is in the offering.

Limits Of Math Are Infinity

Multiple integration, log scales, standard deviation and parametric equations are encountered by mathematic majors or minors. These may be encountered in general mathematics, algebra, trigonometry, statistics, calculus, and slide rule, not to mention the history of math. Combine this with differential equations, a new course offered for the first time next year, and the student will have a thorough background in mathematics for the undergraduate level.

One professor, O. A. Beckendorf, has been added to the staff. Students enrolled in statistics completed a project in which they made practical use of their knowledge. By referring to the application forms and the knowledge obtained from first year students, the best predictor of academic success was determined statistically.

Expansion and improvement in the mathematics as well as other departments continues. Increased planning and revising have contributed to this unified and enlarged program.

Developing an understanding of man's past, his social and geographic environment and the implications of these factors for the present and future is the aim of the social science division. Students are led to evaluate issues, formulate opinions and act on the basis of these convictions.

To provide opportunities for a broadening experience, lyceum programs featured such speakers as Danish Ambassador Tyge Dahlgaard and British commentator Colin Jackson.

Rev. Harold Kupke and Rev. Alvin Schmidt were added to the faculty in the field of sociology. Professor Fred Luebke, whose article on "The Origins of Thomas Jefferson's Anti-Clericalism" was published in the September issue of Church History, was awarded a Danforth Foundation grant for study towards the completion of his Ph.D. in history at the University of Nebraska.

An understanding of the social sciences is truly essential for successful understanding and functioning in today's world.

Top quality professional preparation is an essential building block for prospective teachers, and it is toward strengthening and re-enforcing this building block that the professional training division program is geared. The key word is expansion in education--expansion in staff, program, preparation, facilities and instructional aids.

Professor James Hake was added to the faculty this year while two more additions are anticipated in the near future. A graduate program is moving toward reality and attention is being given to programs of preparation for directors of parish education and music.

The student teaching program, a vital aspect of training through experience and application on the elementary and secondary levels is being enlarged by the addition of six new classrooms at St. John's School. The off-campus phase of this endeavor now includes the co-operation of 41 congregations from Denver to St. Louis.

Closed circuit television, video tape, programmed learning and other recent developments in instructional aids are being used and experimented with in classroom settings.

In order to more adequately visualize the needs and problems of congregations and synodical districts, faculty members have initiated field trips to outlying areas, developing two-way contact with the people and situations this professional training is designed to best serve.

Art And Music Departments Provide Outlet For

Concordia's growing and expanding art department now officially offers an art major for the first time. An art club was organized with one of its first projects being to make banners for the chapel worship services during Lent. In the spring the club participated in an art fair at Seward at which works were sold and demonstrations were given.

Mr. Marxhausen and Mr. Wolfram again exhibited their work in many local and national exhibits throughout the year including exhibits in foreign countries. An outstanding example of the work exhibited was the group of panels depicting the twelve disciples which Mr. Marxhausen created for a Chicago Lutheran elementary school. The students and staff also received many commissions to do work for schools and churches throughout the nation.

Judging a grade school art show, providing mosaics for the student center and making plans for an additional, much-needed art lab extension were among the projects undertaken by the art division.

It is impossible to walk across Concordia's campus without hearing some form of music--whether it be organ practice from Nebraska Hall or tonsil exercise from Jesse. This year Mrs. Edith Steinmiller and Professor Arthur Fliege were added to fill vacancies in the staff bringing the number of full-time music instructors to eleven. A new eleven-rank Schlicker organ was installed in Nebraska Hall in January to provide more practice time for the 210 students registered for organ instruction.

During the school year, students saw the performance of numerous musical programs and lyceums. Organists Arno Schoenstedt of Germany and Robert Reuter of Chicago and pianist Larry Lusk of the University of Nebraska appeared in special recitals. During the month of November several music groups collaborated with the Curtain Club in the production of "The King and I." Campus programs and TV telecasts prepared by the music department included four chorale concerts, two band concerts, one orchestra concert, four student and six faculty recitals.

SCHOOL LIFE

A Common Faith Opens The Door To Oneness, With

Holy communion

Each Other . . And God.

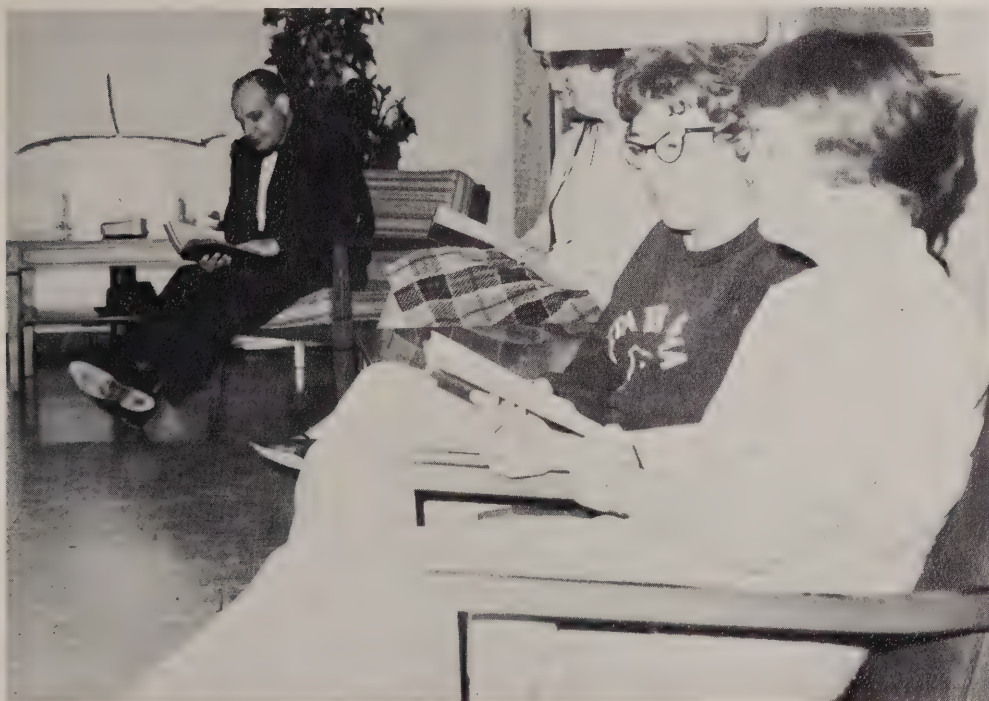

Spiritual life is a vital part of Concordia's campus, and it expresses itself in many ways...not merely attendance at Sunday worship services or daily chapel...even more than inspirational communion vespers and all-campus devotions. The spiritual life of each individual can only be the result of the spiritual life of each individual Concordian. Spiritual life grows through prayer, meditation, and the study of God's Word. It grows within each individual as God makes His Spirit felt and it grows out of each individual in speaking to others.

Weekly Bible Classes were begun this year, consisting mainly of discussion groups led by students, and were met with eager response on the part of the student body. A special Mission Emphasis Week was observed; devoting attention to the importance of personal witnessing. A student devotional guide was initiated in order to help make student worship more meaningful by correlating chapel themes, dorm devotions, and personal meditations. A tract mission was launched, encouraging Concordians to spread the Word and witness to the Savior as they traveled to and from campus on vacations and trips.

Spiritual life is not restricted to areas of formal worship. It is a pervading force which makes itself felt in every aspect of campus life. It is the bond which draws every Concordian together, motivates every activity, gives purpose to every endeavor. It is a constant growing and maturing life to be nurtured and prized, for through it God unites us with Him and with each other.

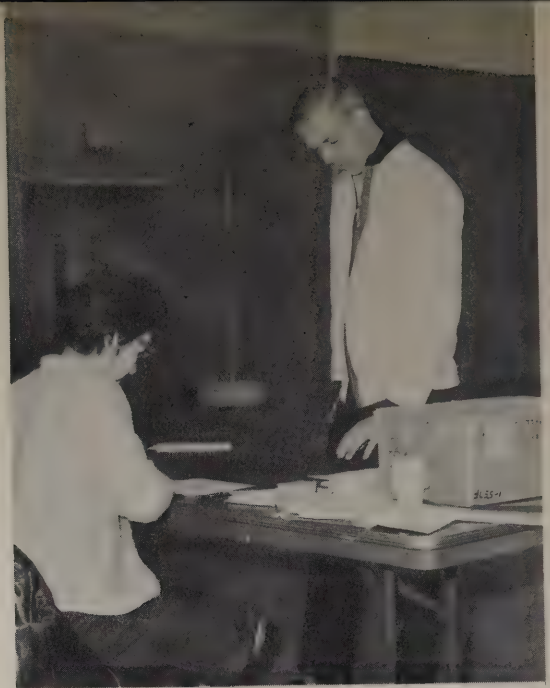

...and the Word... God's living gifts to us.

We dedicate our lives and love to Him.

Homecoming Royalty Reign Over The Grecian Carnival

The "Glory that was Greece" was relived on Concordia Campus October 25-27 in the form of annual Homecoming festivities. Beginning with the royal coronation of King Bob and Queen Eunice the pageantry unfolded to include the triumphant return of the Cross-Country team bearing the flaming torch from Blair, the traditional parade with colorful and imaginative floats and spirited bands, the pep rally at the town square, and the climax--an exciting Bulldog victory over Dana College followed by an entertaining variety show.

Duerr Dorm won the annual dorm project competition with their portrayal of the Trojan Horse, complete with swarming Bulldog warriors, and the Sophomore Class took honors with their float--Myth of Helios. A disrupted "Chariot Race" provided excitement for spectators during half-time as well as a performance by the CTC band.

These events, coupled with the spirit of the students and returning alumni, resulted in a most memorable Grecian Carnival.

In the words of an ancient Greek philosopher: $\Gamma \bar{\omega}$ $B o l l \bar{\omega} \gamma s$ (Go Bulldogs!)

Blazing Grecian bonfire marked Homecoming pep rally excitement.

Breathless Grecian runner Bill Mueller hands the torch to Marty Schramm as Cross-Country team bears it from Blair to Seward to kick off Homecoming festivities.

After lighting the torch, the marathon runners prepare for the beginning of a big day.

A horse drawn cart serves as transportation for Homecoming attendants: Cheryl Leuthauser and Fred Kroger.

Excitement, Fun, And Laughter Head The Parade

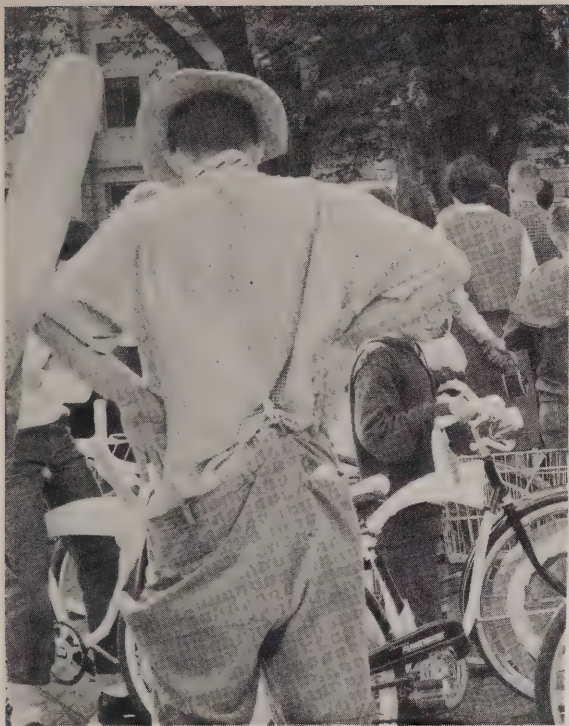

Music, a highlight of all parades, is provided by the CTC band.

Another attraction of the outstanding parade was the antics of the clowns.

Side by side the floats stand down by the Seward square.

Cheerleaders and fans yell vigorously, urging the Bulldogs on to victory.

King Bob and Queen Euni ride on the Senior float, while other Seniors walk along side during the Homecoming parade.

Class Floats Represent The Grecian Carnival

Alan Trimpe drives the first place Sophomore float called "The Myth of Helius."

The victory of the warrior was depicted in the Freshman class float, which took fourth place.

With the flaming torch representing the beginning of the game, Acropolis-the player, and the laurel-the victory, the "Laurels of Victory," the Junior class float came in second.

In the third place came the Senior class float which represented the Grecian way of life.

Duerr dorm displays the first place dorm project which showed Bulldogs emerging from the Trojan horse.

A bulldog carrying a torch was the theme of Schuelke dorm.

The display at Jesse showed that winning over Dana would be a cinch.

Cheerleaders wait for the football team to make their appearance on the football field.

Victory Was The Main Goal Of Homecoming

Passing the opponents, Bob Voelker is on his way for a touchdown.

A new event in this year's Homecoming was the naming of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Oetting as honorary royal couple. Their sons Gene and Larry are past graduates of Concordia; Bob and Dennis are now attending school here.

Victory was the culmination of a very exciting Homecoming game with Dana College. After a half-time deadlock of 13-13 the Bulldogs pulled ahead for a winning score of 33-13. Bob Voelker gliding through some very tough positions was the top point-maker with some breath taking touchdowns. Bob Oetting, King of Homecoming, showed some great blocking throughout the game helping to make the touchdowns possible.

Freshmen and Sophomores battle at the end of the game in a tug-of-war to conclude the battle of the beanie.

Variety Show Climaxed Homecoming Activities.

With the variety show, the Homecoming weekend, Grecian Carnival, ended. Another great event has ended. In our hearts and minds we will remember this weekend as one of wonderment, excitement, and victory.

Jerry Loewe sings and plays a Grecian song as one of the show's entertainers.

Chairman of the variety show, Jim Wollmann, watches as performers make their appearance.

"The Duel of the Titans" was shown by Edward Lebeau and Dennis Oetting.

The year of 1963-64 was a very unusual one for winter weather. Most of the winter was mild with snowy mornings and warm afternoons. However, the weatherman was kind and did send us a wonderful snow for Winter Weekend. This was very much appreciated by all including the planners of the weekend activities. Spring finally came after a hard fight with the cold weather.

Dr. Hoffman speaks to the Concordia student body on the work of the church.

During the school year many things were presented for the students on campus. There were many guest speakers sponsored by groups on campus. The YLTG brought in many speakers; one especially interesting speaker was Dr. Hoffman from the Lutheran Hour. Other programs were also presented. These included Cyrus Running, an artist, The Browns, actors, who presented many programs during their stay on campus, and many organ and piano programs. There were also many campus activities sponsored by groups on campus which provided fun during the weeks and on the week-ends for the students.

No Play Makes A Dull Campus

During the year the Activities Committee of the Student Senate planned many parties for the campus. There were card parties, volleyball parties, and many other types of parties. The students who took advantage of these parties had a great time finding out who some of the strange faces on campus were.

Snow Comes In Time For Winter Weekend

Winter Weekend began with the coronation of the Snow Queen and a Talent Show presented by the dorms and some of the off-campus homes for the Queen and her court. The winners of this contest were the Hans and Cannons off-campus homes. A late snow on Friday made it possible for the snowball fight and other winter events planned by the committee to take place on Saturday.

The queen candidates for Winter Weekend were Ruth Hawkins, Karen Thomas, Joann Smith, Queen Darlene, Cheryl Leuthauser, Joanene VanderHamm, Irene Lachmann, Margène Unverfehrt.

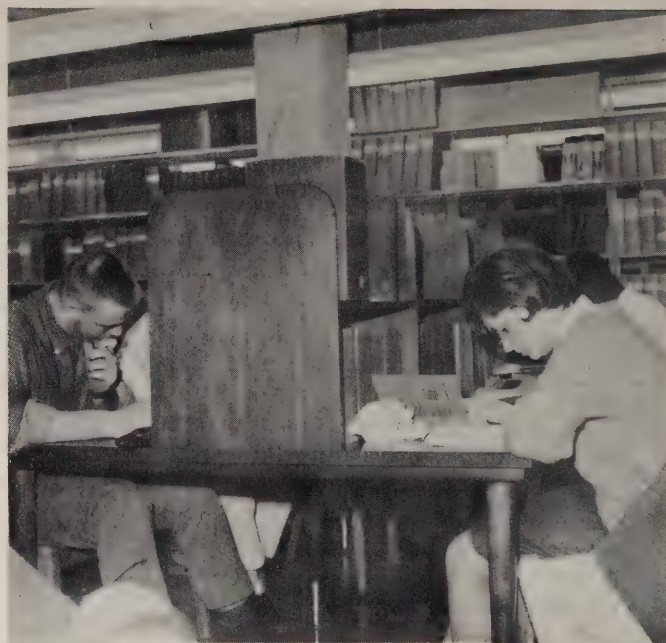

Miss Darlene Krug was chosen as Snow Queen of 1964. She is a senior from Monroe, Michigan. The Queen reigned over a real Winter Weekend as the hoped for snow did arrive. Her majesty also found that her loyal subjects had many wonderful things planned for her entertainment.

FINE ARTS

The faculty band adds an unusual touch to the CIT game.

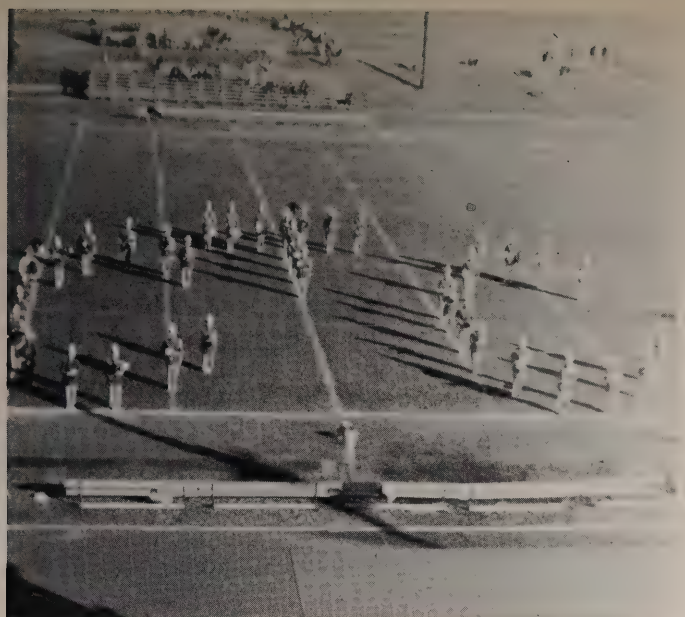

On The Field And In The Concert Hall Instrumentalists Use Their Talents

Under the enthusiastic direction of Mr. Arthur Fliege the band steadily improved. In April the group traveled to Battle Creek and Beemer, Nebraska, for two concerts. A piano-band number "Rhapsodie in Blue" was a highlight of the Spring concert. The musicians ended the year with a steak fry at the Krutz farm.

Providing the music for "The King and I" was the first project of this year's orchestra. Guest instrumentalists and trumpet soloist, Dennis Schneider, of the Lincoln Symphony joined the CTC orchestra members for the Spring Concert under the direction of Mr. Charles Krutz.

The band members are Flutes; Joan Jantz, Barbara Poehlmann, Christine Lawonn, and Liz Sattlemeier; Oboe; Bob Koehler; Clarinet; Leroy Pabst, Karen Krein, Judy Rist, Connie Wagner, Carol Elsing, Judy Boekelheide, Janice Weinlaeder, Kathy Kohtz, and Sherri Carlson; Alto Clarinet; John Frasher; Bass Clarinet; Liz Mehl, Librarian; Bassoon; Sherri Thurnau; Saxophone; Norma Ahrendsen, Barbara Gerler; Trumpet; Dave Drevlow, Charles Krutz, Dave Poovey, Wilma Eaton, and Mary Muhs; French Horn; Ruth Petersen, secretary, and Iona Buss; Trombone; Carol Forke, Eunice Goldgrabe, Arlene Heins, Dale Burroughs, and Lynn Mueller; Baritone; Jane Gronau and Donna Ahrendsen; Tuba; Larry Lebrecht, president, Gerald Bremer, student director, Larry Noack, and Walter Peters; Percussion; Arthur Langdon, Judy Guenther, Marie Goughnour, Mirian Enge, and Judy Krebs.

During the football season the band members entertained with half time performances.

Marcia Hafemeister and the other orchestra members concentrate on watching both music and director.

Campus Choruses Enhance Worship As Well As Entertain

Contributing to worship services is the primary function of Men's Chorus. The members of this group are Dale Burroughs, Paul Carlton, Wes Daberkow, Gary Drefke, David Drevlow, John Frike, Duane Gehl, Ed Gerler, David Hohbein, John Jacobsen, Cliff Kentel, Harry Klann, Ron Knapp, Art Langdon, Albert Maier, Lynn Miller, Curtis Moermund, Roger Naumann, George Rabey, Dean Rudloff, John Senechal, Paul Schmidt, Jim Talbott, Wes Wheatly.

Richard Knigge adds a new note to the Freshman singing with his banjo.

"The Telephone", a short opera, by Menotti was a unique presentation by the Freshman Chorus under the direction of Mr. Frerichs. Karen Hansmeier and Richard Knigge played the parts of the two lovers. "Ben" tried to propose to "Lucy" between her many phone calls. This opera was given seven times for various groups.

Touring the Denver-Colorado Springs area was the highlight of the year for Concordia Singers. This year's group was under the direction of Mr. Arthur Fliege in the absence of Mr. Carlos Messerli.

Any member of the student body may join Chorale or Men's Chorus. The Chorale under the direction of Mr. Harry Giesselman gave a joint concert with the Freshman Chorus this year.

Concordia Chorale sings a variety of secular numbers at their Spring Concert. The members of the group are Lester Bagby, Betty Beckman, Marcia Bennett, Marlene Birkman, Joyce Brueggemann, Gloria Cordes, John Dahm, Sue Endorf, Shirley Faulk, Carol Forke, John Fricke, Karen Gavin, Victoria Gedwillo, Jane Gronau, Lorna Haseley, Rosella Heithus, Sandra Heuer, Susan Hjort, Clifford Kentel, Sharon Kirch, Karen Knapp, Ronald Knapp, Gary Knippenberg, Mary Ann Kruse, June Lafrentz, Lois Meyer, Melva Meyer, Michael Oyler, Corinne Pingel, Barbara Poehlmann, Andrea Rasmann, Ruth Richards, Joan Scheer, Julianne Schmidt, Larry Schmitz, Janice Schulz, Marcia Schulz, Carolyn Stroebel, Christine Sump, James Talbott, Linda Welshans, Wesley Whealey, Margaret Witte, and Karen Zuber.

Sounds of brass add to the soaring strains of the choir.

Whether 'on campus', or 'on the road', the objective of the A Cappella Choir is to present a 'new song unto the Lord'. This year the group gave three performances of its annual Advent-Christmas Concert and two performances of its Spring Concert in Weller Chapel. Professor Martin Stork, tour manager for the choir, arranged a 4,000-mile eastern tour which brought the choir before audiences in Nebraska, Ohio, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Indiana, and Kansas. The choristers are under the direction of Professor Paul Rosel.

Talented Students Perform On Stage

Music from Beethoven to Debussy was mastered by Helen Jensen for her honors piano recital.

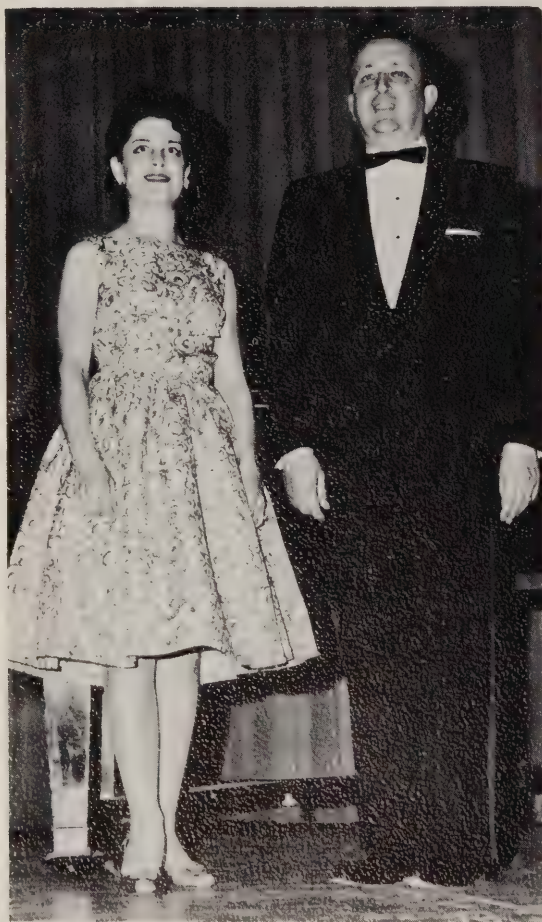

Throughout the year, music students prepared for recital programs of organ, piano, vocal, and instrumental numbers. In order to take an honors course, the applicant must have twelve hours of applied music. The two honors recitals given this year followed a year of long hours of practice and were an inspiration to all who heard them.

Singing for many occasions throughout the year Jane Glover has what it takes.

Maestros Make Music

A soprano and a tenor, Mr. and Mrs. Galen, performed for the students and faculty.

Rhythm and technique were found in the recital given by Mr. Krutz.

Five faculty recitals were given during the 1963-64 school year. The first of these was a duo-piano recital given by Mr. Kenny Frerichs and Miss Marjorie Meier. This was a first for the Concordia campus. Mr. William Galen and his wife gave a vocal recital of secular and sacred numbers. Mr. Bender gave listeners some help by explaining his music before he played. Mr. Krutz brought the brass group into his organ recital for a special treat for the audience. Closing the season was another recital by Mr. Frerichs which featured a Concerto for piano and organ by Flor Peters.

Mr. Jan Bender, a well-known composer, gives a program of organ for the student body.

The Curtain this year, for the first time, worked with children's theater. "Beauty and the Beast" was the first children's play attempted. This play traveled to Columbus and Omaha for several performances.

"Antigone" was a modern play given by the Curtain. It was a play of revenge in which Antigone suffers death rather than let her brother go unburied. The Curtain gave several other productions this year including three student productions early in the year. Many chapel drama showed the talents of Curtain members also.

Hootenannys To Speech Recitals--General Campus Activities

The Contemporary folk singers sang to a full house of eager Concordians

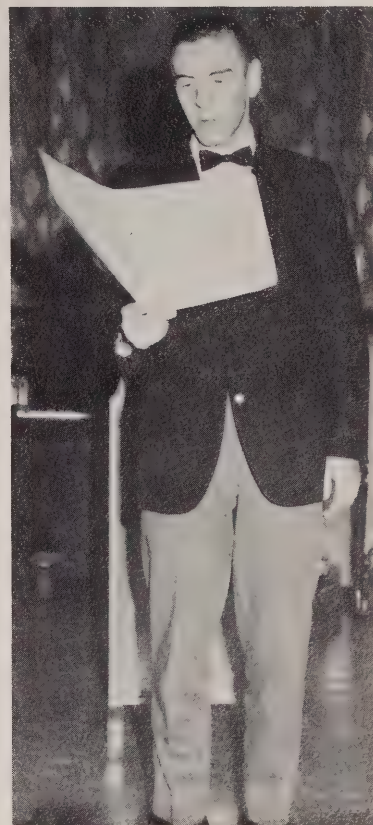

The Choral Readers from Northwestern College in Iowa, the only group of its kind, gave a thrilling performance on the campus.

Only a representative sampling of the many and varied fine arts programs held this year are shown here. This spring Sherry Thomas planned and directed a show, "America in Review", which depicted the history of America from the revolution to Broadway in song. Many lyceums were held throughout the year which included Cyrus Running an artist and the E. Martin Browns, actors from England. Also, for the first time this year our campus was the stage for two professional groups the Contemporary Folk Singers and the Travelers Three.

Faye Templeton Frisch teaches beginners how to play the piano on electric pianos.

ACTIVITIES

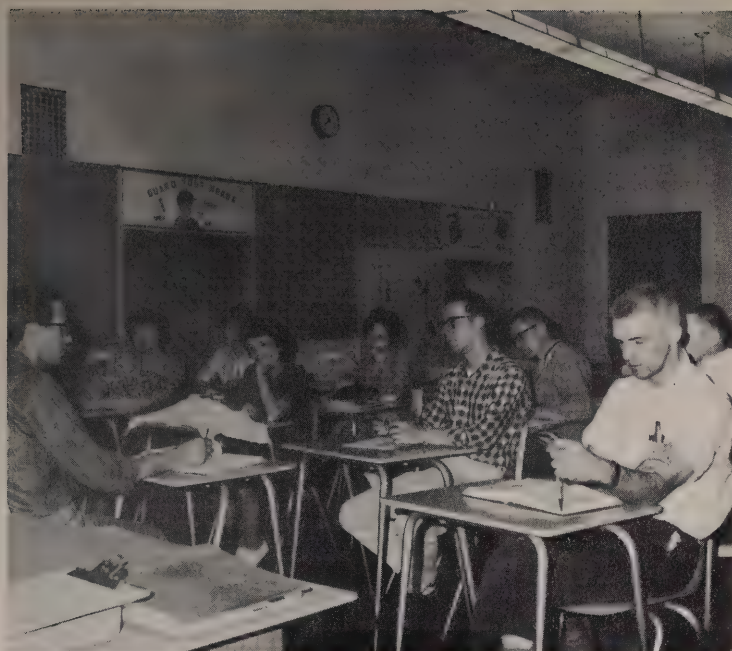

Working hard for the student body on Student Senate are Janet Reinboth, Bob Schulz, James Hahn, John Rasmussen, Beverly Kusel

The aim of the Student Senate is to discuss problems, evaluate suggestions, and voice opinions. Representatives elected from each class are divided into committees to cover the entire range of Senate activities and student life. This year an active program of efficient student government has fostered student support and administrative cooperation. Also, periodic student body meetings provided opportunity for open discussion and the forming of plans for a proposed student judiciary.

Student Senate Voices

The Student Body officers are: Ben Herbrich, Activities Chairman; Wayne Wentzel, Vice President; Rudolph Niermeier, Men's Council Chairman; Sitting; Irene Lachman, Women's Council Chairman; Chris Reinke, President; and Jackie Blobaum, Secretary.

Working on ideas for spiritual life are: Woody Arp, chairman, Ruth Bultemeier, George Drefke, Carol George, Julie Giebelman, Stan Goldfish, Darryl Haake, Dan Jurgenson, Barb Larson, Nancy Seim, Bill Steinke, Margaret Stoelting, Lowel Thompson, Pat Vickrey.

The Building and Grounds Committee are Wayne Schmidt, Paul Brammier, John Rassmussen, and Carol Meyer.

Opinions And Represents The Associated Students

The Activities Committee is composed of: Rosalie Salmon, Lois Bruns, Ben Herbrich, Pro. Marxhausen, Advisor, Bill Fischer, Al Ebel, Jim Hahn, Tim Timm, Marlene Birkman, Pro. Duensing, Advisor.

Administrative and reference committees form a vital part of the Student Senate. The Activities Committee is one of the most dynamic groups in Senate, sponsoring all-campus entertainment and large and small parties. Everything from George Washington's birthday celebration to the appearance of the Traveler's Three was arranged by these capable hands. Maintaining the tutoring system was the chief concern of the Academic committee. While the Spiritual Life committee initiated regular Bible classes and an all-campus EMV program.

Working hard on the campus elections is the nominations committee made up of Robert Ahrens, Margene Unverfehrt, Janet Reinboth, chairman, Ruth Hahenkamp, and Alan Gunderman.

Duties which are necessary for an efficiently functioning campus are handled by these committees. To assure orderly elections the Nominations Committee supervises the procedures. The Constitution Committee initiated two amendments this year. The name of the campus newspaper was officially changed to "The Sower" and the name of the academic committee was entered as the "Academic Affairs" Committee. Guiding campus visitors and keeping the students informed by means of the PR bulletin board in Weller Lobby are two functions of the Public Relations Committee. Posting the "Daily Informer" and maintaining campus facilities are the responsibilities of the Building and Grounds Committee.

The Constitution Committee did much to improve the life on campus. This committee included Daniel Koenig, Marlene Birkman, Fred Kreutz, and Wayne Wentzel, chairman.

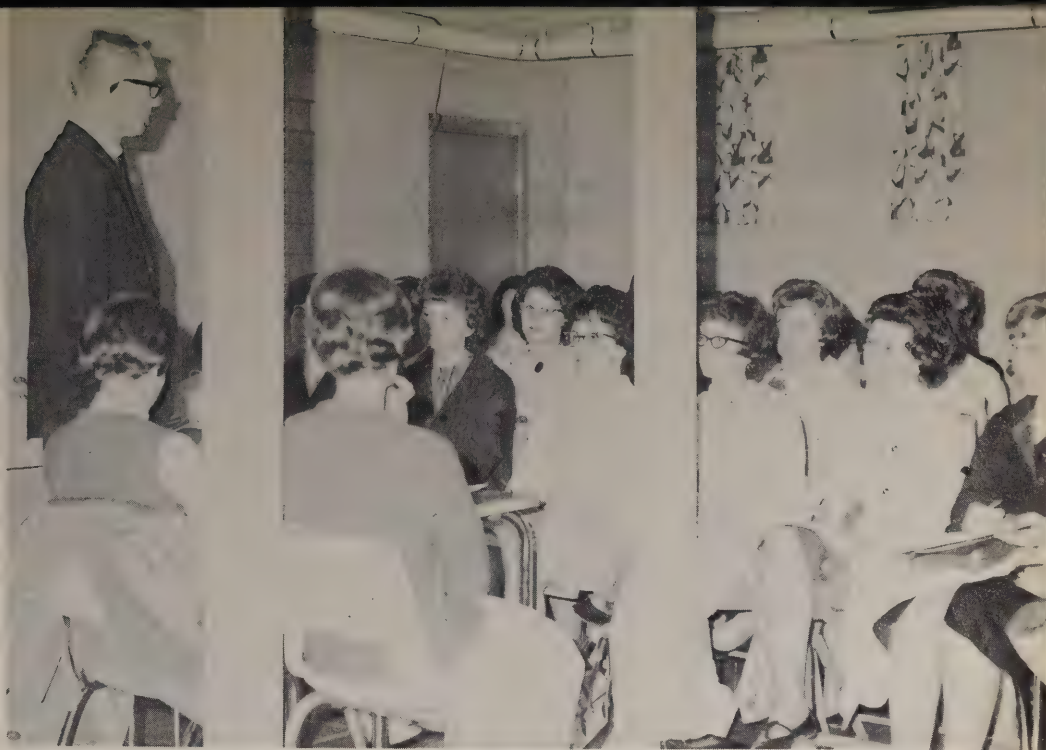

Taking care of the Public Relations for the campus were Ruth Hawkins, Lester Bagby, Phyllis Juergensen, and Mike Held.

The Academic Committee functioned with the following members Dan Seim, Lois Abresch, Robert Schulz, Carol Craft, Raymond Hauer, and Chuck Kennel.

Women's Council is the official voice of the women students. It's objective is to assist Concordia women through the strengthening of their spiritual life, promoting of educational growth, and stimulating social participation. Activities such as style shows and the Big and Little Sis Program are conducted through this group.

It's counterpart, Men's Council, strives to promote the spiritual, social, and educational growth of the men students on campus. It deals with those problems which are specific to men and assist the Senate in orientating the new men students.

The Women's Council is composed of a representative from each dorm and off-campus homes. The members are: Carol Hoemann, Susan Kroemer, Karen Maurer, Kathy Brockmann, Marcy Wurl, Anita Riess, Pat Zahn, Nita Paulson, Carrie Karg, Kay Winstead, Christine Sump, Darlene Goldammer, Lori Zuber, Carol Craft, Rachel Orman, Sue Klein, Sandi Rhode, Sheryl Thieling, Carol Kalthoff, Gretchen Hoffschneider, Joan Cox, Marguerite Eaton, June Lafrentz, Christine Ojala, Margaret Witte, Karen Rader, Clarice Wegener, Cheryl Voltmer, Connie Bornholtz, Suzanne Roberts, Lois Ostruske, Judy Wells, Ella Lehl, Marva Borck, Leonora LaSell, Marlene Bellhorn, Judy Ries, Yvonne Aschbrenner, Diane Rabe, Judy Katzenmeier, Cherie Fritze, Ruth Hahnenkamp, Elaine Wolter, Gladys Dahlkoetter, Kathy Julio, Jan Schulz, Nadine Renner, Sherri Thurnau, Doris Hofmann, Corrine Rogers, Kay Ratermund, Donna Renquist, and Irene Lachmann, President.

Representative from each boy's dorm and off-campus home, work to improve the dorm situation. President is Rudy Niermier.

To capture and record the events of the 1963-64 school year, the Tower staff has compiled this year's annual. Initiation of a new idea, summer delivery, enabled the staff to include spring activities and graduation for the first time. Yearbook clinics and a trip to Walsworth Publishing Company provided valuable experience for improvements in organization and style. The theme-"The Open Door"-ushers students into this collection of the year's highlights.

The typing staff had plenty of work this year. Members of this staff were Viola Bahls, Martha Wages, and Carolyn Frey, editor.

Working hard to get out the Sower, the staff enjoys togetherness.

Drastic changes in form and format mark this year's accomplishments of The Sower, which replaces the Courier. Now a weekly publication, The Sower is entirely a student publication which fulfills the objectives of creating and expressing student opinion, providing training in journalism, stimulating and publicizing campus activities, and providing an outlet for student's literary endeavors.

Nadine Deke, editor and Brain Dietrich assistant editor, have worked very hard to improve the newspaper.

On typing staff are Jane Freudenburg, Sharon Kirch, and Marlene Renner.

Working on the Sower Staff with Rev. Haich their advisor were Nadine Deke, editor; Paul Colba, sports editor; Emma Jean Schoot, news editor;

Students Seek Additional

Although the recently organized Literary Club is not yet an official campus organization it has begun an interesting and enlightening program. Members read selected novels, short stories and plays which are then discussed at monthly meetings.

Gene Neer, President, leads a discussion on the latest novel. Members of the Literature Club are: Joanene VanderHamm, Dean Rudloff, Dan Koenig, Linda Pelger, Ruth Schuessler, Binky Benson, Gene Neer, President, Bill Steinke, Curt Moermond, Judy Butt, Diz Miller, Dave Dolak, Karen Rader, Carol Craft, Linda Schroeder, Donna Watson, Judy Friesen, Lois Abresch, Carolie Allen, Bill Fischer, Jo Dahme, Mary Griesse, Barbara Beyer, Judy Brunner, Glenda Gierhan, Marlene Birkman, Ruth Bultemeier.

Concordia Speakers is organized with the purpose of providing CTC students with a workshop where they can learn and practice techniques of speech on an intra-collegiate and intercollegiate level. It also acquaints the students with the variety of ways in which speech can be used to further the work of the church. The group was divided into the Expositors and the Interpreters and prepared to participate in exchanges with Union College, Doane, and River Forrest. The culminating events for the Speakers included the Tri-State Competition in Orange City, Iowa, and the annual Honors Speech Convocation in May.

Skills In Subject Areas

The Camera Club learns how to take good pictures. Rev. Uhlig is the advisor and the members are: John Jacobson, Ed Schade, Jim Edwards, Nolon Olhausen, Celeste Lawin, and Ron Kamprath, President.

Owning a camera and wanting to use it are the only qualifications for the Camera Club. The semi-monthly meetings of this organization are designed to help students develop skills in technique, composition, developing, printing, and enlarging photographs. Shutterbugs participate in contests, photo essays, excursions, and parties.

Rev. Walter Rosin is the sponsor.

Let's have a picnic.

The Concordia Walther League desires to train members in the duties of leadership, to inform them on the church mission program, and to provide opportunities for Christian fellowship. These goals are accomplished by activities such as the annual Junior Talent Festival and District Senior Talent Festival and many other activities for the group on campus. The local organization is affiliated with the International Walther League and carries out its five point program of fellowship, recreation, service, education, and worship.

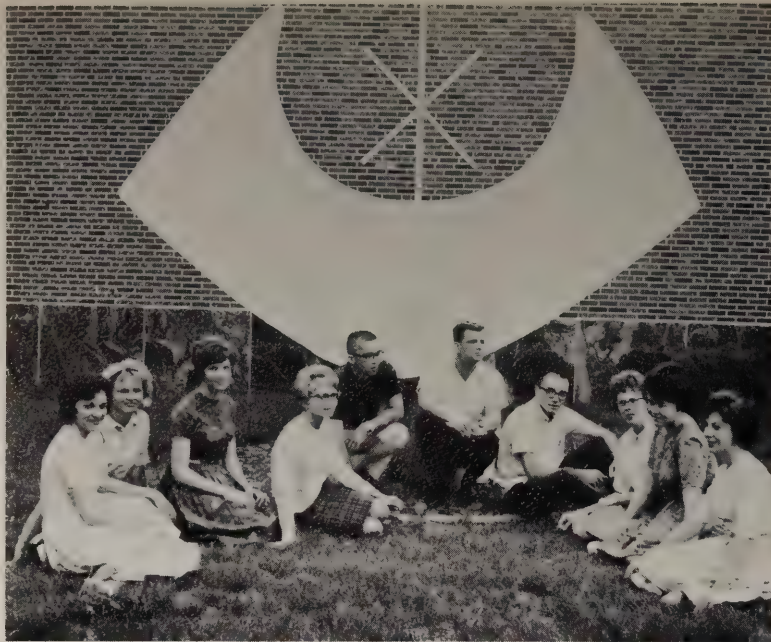

Doors For Service, Growth

The Mission Society studies the church's mission program, emphasizing aid to neighboring congregations through evangelism and teaching activities. The group also sponsors missionaries to appear on campus. The double thrust of the group is to launch extensive studies of selected phases of the mission program and participation in personal evangelism for a deeper understanding of people. The society sponsors a counseling program for two youth groups, Sunday School teaching at St. John's, and regular visits to the mental hospital in Lincoln. During Mission Emphasis Week this organization was in charge of chapel services, guest speakers, and instituting a meaningful, inspiring program.

The Mission Society hears about a trip to Europe which Katy Tietz took last summer. The members of the group are; Anita Adamson, Donna Ahrendson, Yvonne Aschbrenner, Donna Bartling, Martha Bauden, Carolyn Bergt, Bob Bierbaum president, Carol Bussey, Kathy Bergt, Dorene Carmann, Jeff Crane, Sheran Christiansen, Rosemary Ehrichs, Jim Feldscher, Duane Gehl, Jane Glover, Marie Goughnour, Vera Heckman, Doris Hofman, Jane Huyck, Dorene Kaiser, Janice Kamenske, Cliff Kentel, Lois Kieninger, Sharon Kirch, Sue Klein, Karen Knapp, Judy Krebs, Karen Krein, Rosemary Lane, Eileen Lierman, Donna Lovrich, Elaine Luehrs, Thyra Lulow, Alvera Mehaffey, Gerald Michels, Dorothy Moerer, Gene Neer, Tesa Neuman, Karen Rader, Anita Reimer, Corine Rogers, Paul Schmidt, Norma Schroeder, Marcia Schulz, Beverly Seibel, Doris Sell, Georgia Stadler, Bill Steinke, Judy Stoehr, Gertrude Suckstorf, Anita Unzner, Jean Volker, Carol Voth, Norman Wachlin, Jan Weinlaeder, Sharon Wynn.

As the largest student organization on campus, the Youth Leadership Training Group, teaches the art of effective youth counselorship. Attention is given to the specific areas of worship, recreation, singing, service, topic skills, and the Walther League structure. A program of workshops on campus together with two professionally directed workshops in Lincoln helped to achieve their purposes. A series of scheduled speakers on special problems of youth work contributed to reach the souls of more young people through teachers trained in youth work.

The Young Republicans and Young Democrats formed this year at semester to foster interest in government activities among the students. The groups attended the Young Republican and Young Democrat state conventions this spring and found out more about what their groups stand for. Interest in the government especially in this election year is vital to any good citizen.

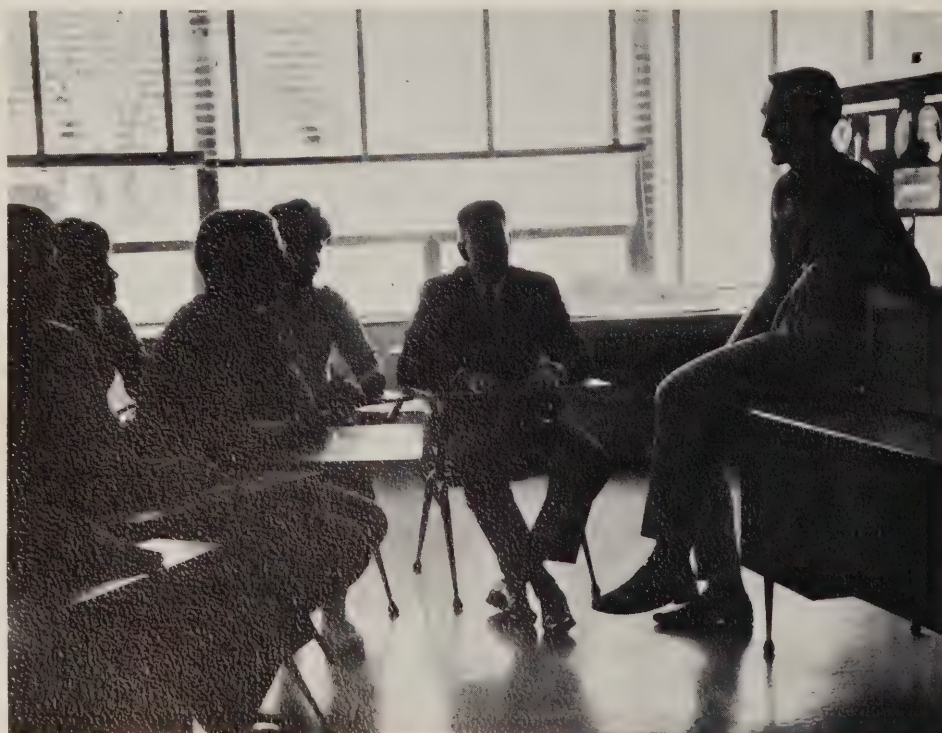

President Harold Bagby assisted by Rev. Krugler, the sponsor of the group, leads the Young Republicans in an important meeting.

Athletes Find Common Interest

Membership in the "C" Club is limited to men who have earned a varsity letter in one of Concordia's major sports. Through the selling of refreshments at athletic events and other special projects, this group finances all of its activities. The organization sponsors invitational basketball and track meets during the year for the Lutheran grade schools of the area.

The members of C Club are Dave Anderson, Gordon Bredow, Bob Burger, Nick Christoff, Brian Dietrich, Cliff Doll, Al Grauer, Dennis Frerking, Bill Jacobson, Ron Kamprath, Fred Kroger, Jim Manion, Lynn Niemeier, Rudy Niermeier, Bob Oetting, Dave Richterkessing, Bob Schultze, Bob Voelker, John Wittrock, Tom Mayes, Noel Vetter, John Jacobsen, Larry Noack, Gene Anderson, Paul Grauer, Ed Klein, Dick Laird, Bob Affeldt, Dan Juergensen, Dennis Oetting, John Laue, Wayne Gray, Jim Vogel, Ed LeBeau, Doug Borer, Dave Toensing, Mike Held, Don Fullner, Wes Daberkow, Joe Micanek, Larry Rafert, Bill Mueller, Courtney Meyer, Richard Maurer, Danny Kramer. Vance Hinrichs, is sponsor.

The Student Athletic Executive Council sponsors a complete intramural program. This group tries to encourage athletic participation, to provide leisure activities for students interested in sports, and to support the Concordia Athletic program. One major project this year was the publication of the Student Intramural Handbook to set forth information concerning the year's intramural program.

Couples And Veterans Find Fellowship

Army, Air Force, Marine, and Navy veterans join together to form the Eagles and Anchors. All "Vets" are encouraged to join and keep in touch with the current military and reserve action. The group provides a color guard for home football games, sponsors all-campus skating parties, and raised funds for charity. They also had a steak fry for the veterans and their families a high-light of the year.

Concordia Couples Club is an organization for the married student. This group offers Christian fellowship to the couples on the campus. In coming married students are provided with information on housing and are made to feel welcome through this organization.

Concordia couples club has a get together at Schuelke Hall.

Working with Eugene Wiegman, advisor, are executive board, Kathy Julio, Joyce Iorger, and Kathy Bergt.

THE AMERICAN GUILD OF ORGANISTS

The AGO members had a very successful year. They sponsored all the student recitals and ushered at these and the faculty recitals. They had special guests at each of the monthly meetings to talk on different phases of organ playing. This group of students is a member of the National American Guild of Organists.

Some of the members are Jim Wollman, President, Ben Schumacher, Mike Held, Chuck Kennel, Carol Hoemann, Jolene Schultz, Fredric Nolte, Roland Steele, Mildred Schultz, Trudy Suckstorf, Elaine Weber. Miss Schinnerer is the advisor.

The Student Lutheran Education Association is the professional organization for prospective teachers on the campus. Through this organization the student becomes acquainted with educational research especially in the area of Christian education. Areas of congregational life not often presented in the classroom are a part of this group's program. Attention is also given to projects and publications of the LEA.

In Professional And Humanitarian Endeavors

The Human Relations Club was founded to foster better understanding and relations on a local and national level. The newly organized club attained its goals through guest speakers, films, and role-playing which spurred discussion and evaluations of social problems and civil rights legislation.

Professor Wiegman, advisor, works with Jim Edwards, Jane Gronau, and Blazine Thorn

Members of the Human Relations Club are Judy Anderson, Mattie Anderson, Emma Backhus, Kathy Bergt, Barb Beyer, Bob Bierbaum, Carol Craft, Nadine Deke, Jim Edwards, Carol Franklin, Karen Garvin, Iris Gnewuck, Marie Goughnour, Jane Glover, Jane Gronau, David Hohbein, Lucy Huslage, Joyce Ioerger, Cliff Kentel, Judy Krebs, Gloria Lampe, Juanita Lewis,

Coach Starenko Leaves His Position At CTC

The 1963 season became the last season for Coach Stranko at Concordia. The team won six out of the nine games. Throughout the year there were many outstanding players such as Bob Oetting and Marty Duchow on defense and Tom Mayes, Bob Voelker, and Paul Grauer on offense. Working as a successful team, they made many successful touchdowns to win some really close games.

From the side lines, Coach Stranko leads the team to victory.

Bulldogs End A Year With Success

The Concordia team started the 1963-64 season with a winning streak of five games, and they ended the year with the greatest victory of all, the CIT championship. The tournament was held in Seward this spring.

The excited fans were strongly supporting their team as the chance to take the tournament came closer. The players deserve a big hand for their hard work and successful season.

Coed Girls Work With A New Sponsor

This year the co-ed team received a new sponsor, Miss Kretzschmar. The team worked hard under this new leadership to gain the recognition of the school. Along with swimmings and a few track events basketball is the only way girls can compete with other schools. This year the team will lose five senior girls which will leave a gap. But some of the returning members will not take long to fill this gap.

Second Year Of Swimming Includes Women Swim Team

This year the swim team added another set of swimmers to their representation of the school, a group of very ambitious girls who wanted to bring a new sport to the women of Concordia. They along with the male swim team took part in five swim meets of which most were played at Concordia. This new sport on campus needs our support and encouragement so that it will grow along with the other sports.

The male swim team consist of Coach Steinmiller, John Schultz, John Laue, Dan Jurgensen, Gail Berry, Barry Kolb, Bob Werner, Larry Rafert, Jim Vogel, and Dick Laird.

Working Hard At Winning

Each event in swimming is a challenge to these students. Putting all their effort into winning, both the women and men's swimming team improved through the year. There is great possibility for next year being their championship year.

Tennis is another individual sport which received much attention this spring. Concordia's tennis team used the warm spring weather to its fullest with hard practice. This year the team had some new courts to work on. Whether it was the new courts or just lots of practice the team did make a good showing this season.

Bulldogs Tie For Second

The Bulldogs finished the season with a 5-5 Conference record. This put them in a three way tie for second place in the Conference. Their record for all their games played were 9-8. Concordia shortstop Tom Mayes became the 5th leading hitter in Bulldog history.

Juniors Win All Class Championship

This year for the first time the intramural sports were played in class competition. After each set of intramurals the classes were awarded points on a set scale. The Juniors won by a large margin. The sports in this program included basketball, volleyball, tennis, badminton, football for the boys, track, bowling, and softball.

ACTIVITIES

They Lead The Way

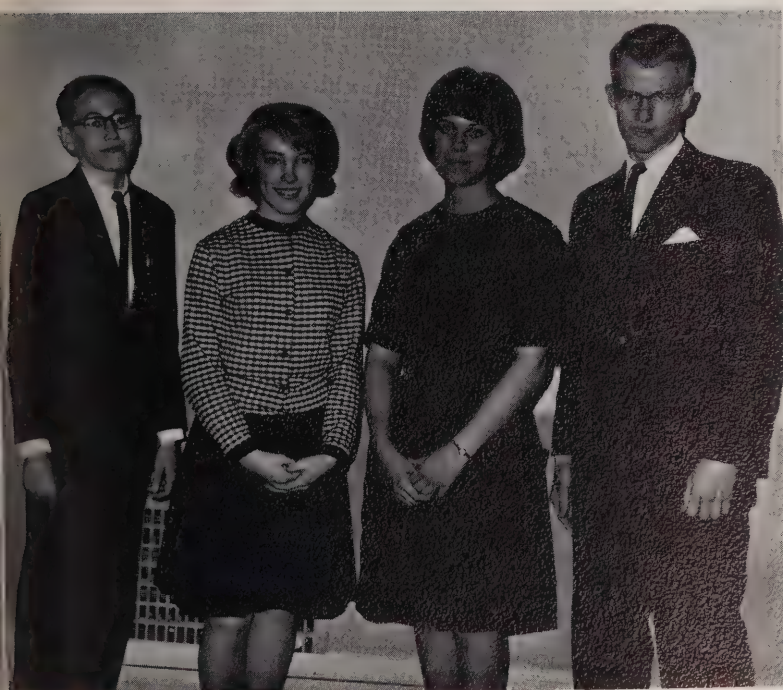

Leading our school as Student Council president this year was president Neil Lohmeyer.

Once again this year the Student Council sponsored an All Sports Festival and were hosts to the Lights from Denver Lutheran High. Through the Student Council our school also 'adopted' an orphan child overseas for the first time. This venture proved so successful that plans are to sponsor a similar child next year.

Time out for a moment of relaxation from their busy schedule is shared by Allyn Steffans and Lois Meyer, Junior class representatives and Elaine Giesselmann and Nate Stahmer, Senior representatives.

Elected by their classes to serve as Freshmen representatives are Jan Lohmeyer and Joanne Schreiner and Sophomore representatives Brenda Haarberg and Cliff Schultz.

Wanda Hill and Doris Marshbanks serve at the coronation of the king and queen for Ali Sports Weekend.

Neil Lohmeyer and Sandi Troester join the Chorus reception after the home concert in Weller.

Witnessing Through Song

The joyous Christmas concert complimented by their inspiring Lenten concert gave the chorus a full year of work and accomplishments. Their glorious message was proclaimed on two day tours during the year as well as the full tour and other events. Bach's "Jesu Meine Freude" won the hearts of the choir and all who heard it performed.

The members of this year's Chorus are: row one, Annetta Stork, Judy Ring, Diana Banek, Carol Hohbein, Sharyl Jarchow, Joan Stolzenburg, Linda Meyer, Kathy Herpolscheimer, Connie Witte, Marlys Haak, Elaine Ehlers; row two, Kathie Rhode, Jan Holtmeier, Chris Steffens, Jean Truog, Pauline Deutsch, Paula Blomenberg, Gail Naber, Mary Hussman, Lois Meyer, Becki Schuelke, Connie Pollick, Karen Cramlett, Darlene Cheering our Raiders on through the year are: FRONT ROW: Gale Nabor, Pauline Deutsch. BACK: Barb Fauske, Lois Meyer, and head cheerleader Linda Meyer.

"Everybody yell" is Pauline's cry during the sod cheer.

Cheerleading clinics, pep rallies, send offs, and a lot of practice were in store for our cheerleaders after they were selected by the student body, but watching the team take first in district they quickly admit it was worth it.

A loud shout comes from Lois as the Raiders score again.

Pride glows in her eyes as Linda watches the Raiders pounce another opponent.

A tense moment, and Gale joins the crowd by devoting all her attention to the team.

Pep Promoters

Head cheerleader - Brenda Haarberg, Sandi Troester, and Jan Holtmeier bolstered school spirit as junior varsity cheerleaders.

Along with the Senior Stokers, John Vogt provided comedy as well as a pep band for basketball games.

Our Pride And Joy

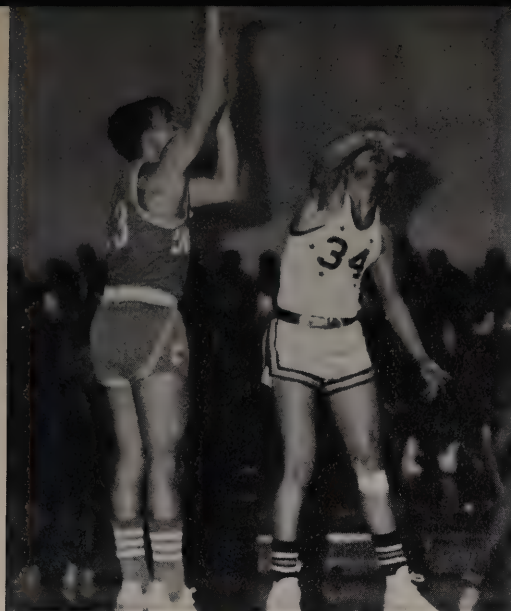

Using their returning varsity members to the best advantage, Concordia took second place in the Atlas Conference Tournament and first place in the district tournaments. They came in second in regional tournaments, losing to Tecumseh by one point. The Raiders also retained ownership of the traveling trophy shared with Denver Lutheran.

Neil Lohmeyer and Phil Rosel give a valiant attempt to gain the ball.

Eldon Kamla and Ron Pfeiffer join forces to recover the ball.

Concordia's Raiders Reign Over State

Coach Baden looks on thoughtfully as Concordia faces Dodge in State semi-finals, won by Concordia 2-0.

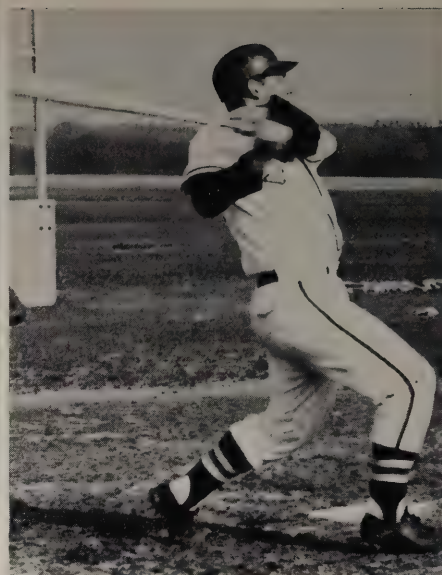

First-baseman, Reed Sander makes the long stretch as another runner bows to the Raider infield.

Neil Lohmeyer, Senior slugger, warms up to face another pitcher.

Schade races to beat out a ground ball.

The Wisconsin power-hitter, Bob Fieck, slugs another one.

First-baseman Reed Sander grabs another throw for another routine out.

The Concordia baseball team, piloted by Coach Baden, become the 1964 Class B State Champions. The team consisted of boys with the ability to win, which was so necessary, going hand in hand with a desire to work, to put on the performance needed this year to win the State Championship.

Mr. Baden inspires his team before the game against Dodge.

SOCIAL LIFE

SPORTS ROYALTY

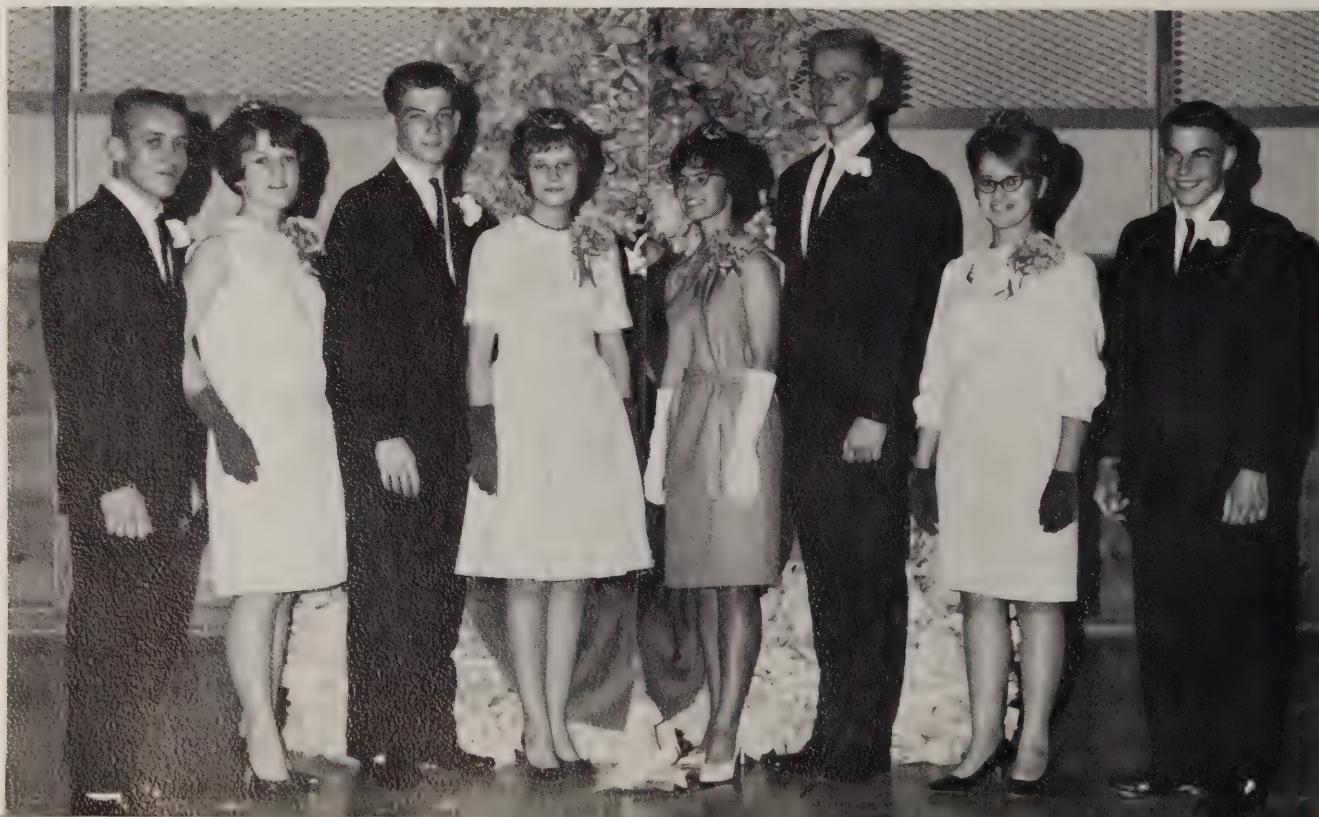

The thrill of royalty for a night is clearly expressed on the faces of our King and Queen of the Sports Festival. The night was full of tiring but rewarding activities. Although we lost the game to Wymore, our school spirit never dwindled. The night started off with a snake dance, pep rally, entertainment, refreshments and a bon fire. The evening closed with vespers led by Pres. Janzow.

Queen Gale Ann Naber and King Eldon Kamla reign over the Sports Festival.

Gerry Spannagle, Pauline Deutsch, Neil Lohmeyer, Elaine Giesselmann, Linda Meyer, Neil Skov, Barb

Fauske, and Phil Rosel are the royal court for the evening.

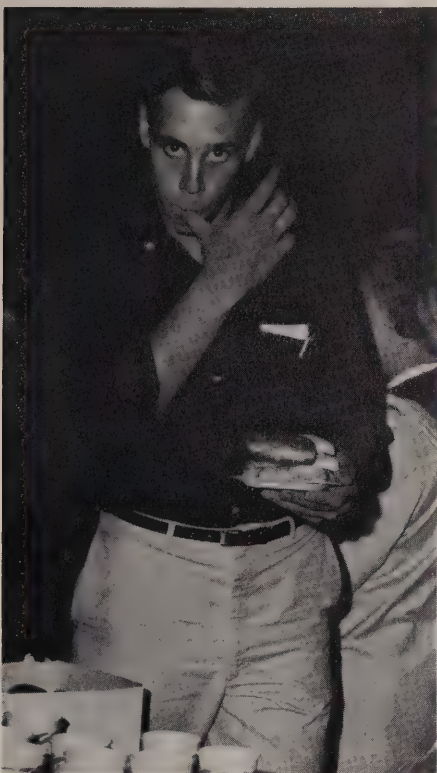

There's no stopping a snake dance and Lorin Blank enjoys every minute.

The defeated dummy burns in effigy

The Pep Club skit shows Wymore doesn't have a chance.

Refreshments make Mike's evening complete.

Fired with school spirit these guys yell for the team.

"My Big Sister" is unexplainable to Ruth in her reading.

The Freshmen join in singing the closing vesper song.

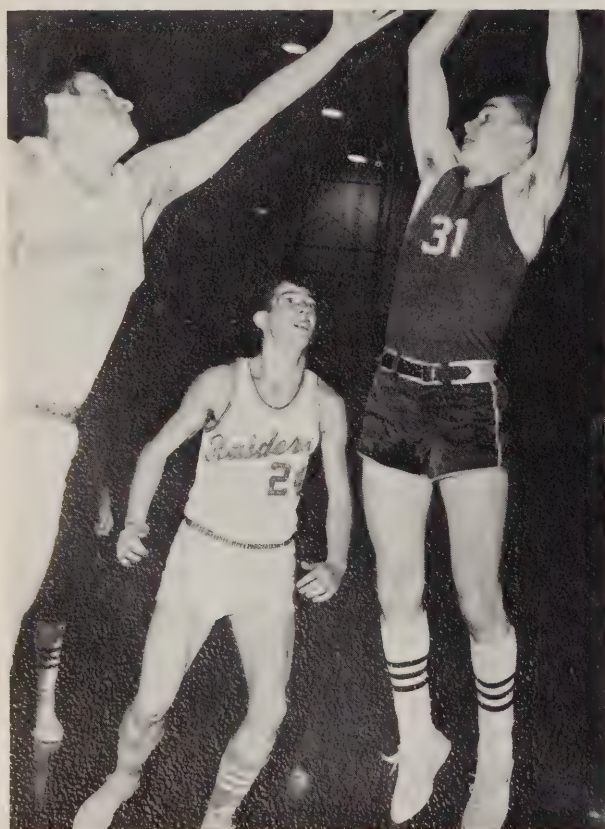

Dr. Hardt welcomes the Denver Lights to our campus.

Denver Lights Visit Concordia

The opening jump renews the rivalry between Denver Lutheran and Concordia High.

Neil Lohmeyer and Ron Pfeiffer try unsuccessfully to steal ball from Denver's John Mayes.

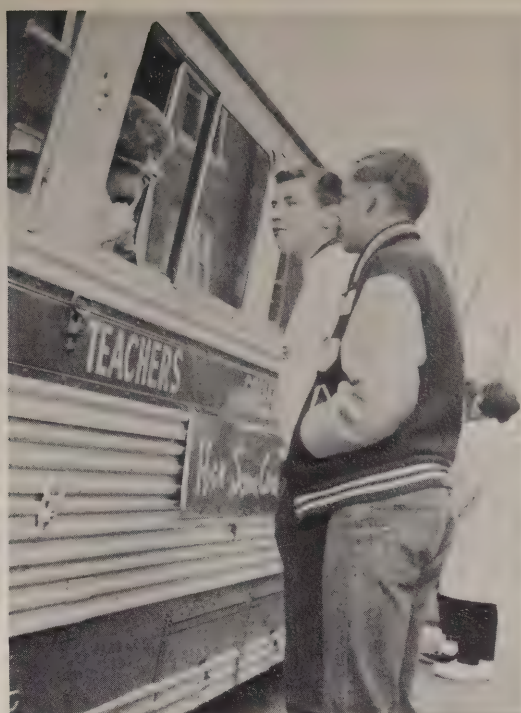

Once again it was our privilege to welcome the Lights of Denver Lutheran to Concordia. After welcomes by Neil Lohmeyer and Dr. Hardt, the Lights were introduced to Concordia, with a basketball game that night. The next day the schools entertained each other; and the weekend was climaxed by the basketball game that night, followed by a hootenanny, and the Lights' departure.

After an exciting game both schools gather in Brommer for refreshments and a hootenanny.

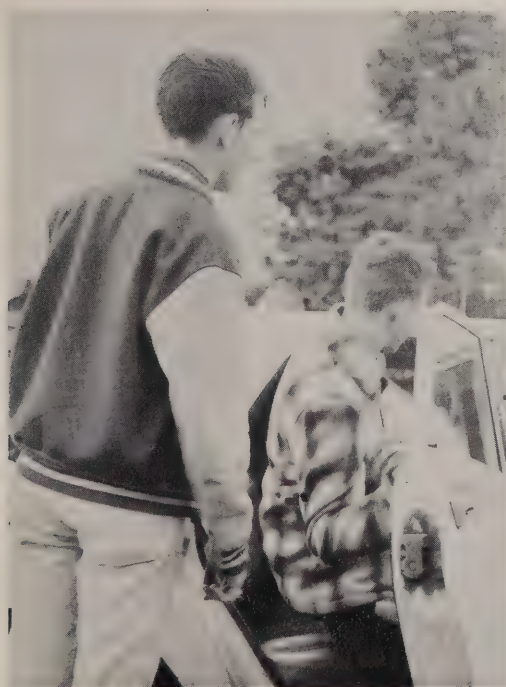

With anxious looks, the members board the waiting bus.

Farewells and good wishes are both sad and happy.

Messengers Of Christian Fellowship

Ron Heinicke and Mel Churchill, brave souls, dare to ride in Mr. Leonard's car.

Bright hopes and high spirits accompanied the Chorus as it traveled through the states of Wyoming, Colorado, Montana, and Nebraska, bringing the Passion message to many congregations. Through illness and snowstorms, the Chorus presented concerts and services in small and large churches.

Chorus members relax during free time before the evening concert.

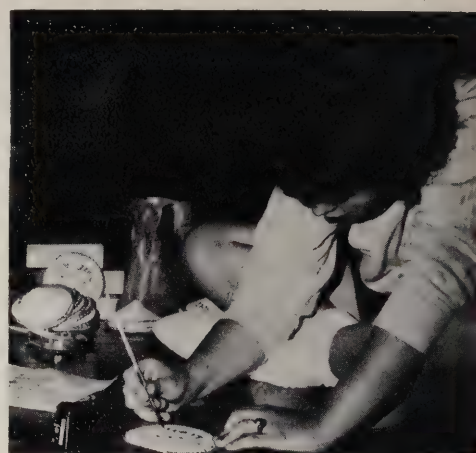

The beautiful mural sets a quiet peaceful atmosphere for the Spring Banquet.

The theme Sayonara was well carried out in the beautiful Spring Banquet. From the Chinese bridge at the entry to the Oriental mural, the banquet presented a fine setting to go with the evening's entertainment. Hard work and long hours, culminated in a lovely and long-to-be-remembered evening.

Irene concentrates on spelling those names correctly as she finishes the name cards for the banquet.

"Sayonara" To The Seniors Spring Banquet

Queen Pauline Deutsch and King Neil Lohmeyer pose with the royal court. The court consists of Elaine Giessehmenn, Phil Rosel, Linda Meyer, Bill Huey, Pauline and Neil, Gail Naber, Nate Stahmer, Barb Fauske, and Eldon Kamla.

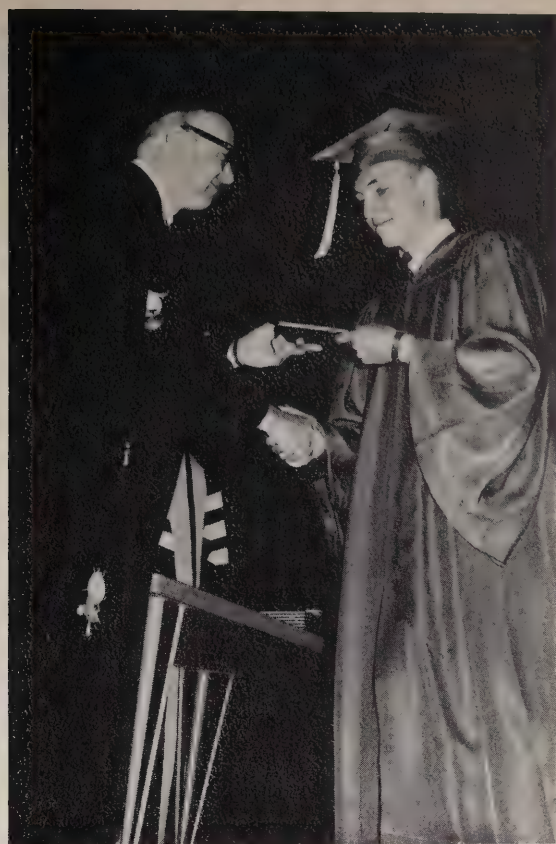

Graduation

What thoughts run through the graduate's mind as he listens to the baccalaureate sermon.

Four long years are over and our Seniors now will go out to find the work God has chosen for them to do in service to Him. Whether the be church work, four years of college, or married life, they will all serve Christ as witnesses in Christian living. The rest of us wait our turn to meet the world with Christ.

President Janzow handed out the diplomas and congratulated the Seniors as they said good-bye to their High School days. Ernest Freudenberg steps up to receive his diploma.

Congratulations from their parents and final farewells are heard on the steps of Weller as the graduates leave for home.

Achievement earns a pride that is justifiable, particularly when such achievement helps and pleases others. The 675,000 members of Aid Association for Lutherans wish to acknowledge your accomplishments on this memorable occasion. They send their best wishes for your continued success. • These AAL members know about achievement, too, and they enjoy a pride that is equally justifiable. Their society, which has served Lutheran families for 60 years by providing them with financial peace-of-mind, is America's largest fraternal life insurance society and ranks among the top three percent of all life insurance organizations. • You will find AAL members most anxious to share this success with you . . . by modestly boasting of the Special Difference—LOWER NET COST—which they enjoy with AAL.
